INSTITUTE

Fritz Institute / CILT (UK) Certification in Humanitarian Logistics Program

INTRODUCTION TO CERTIFICATION 20 JUNE 2011 – NAIROBI, KENYA

Have you ever heard of the Certification in Humanitarian Logistics Program and wondered what the courses entail? What is the difference between CHL, CHSCM, and MedLog? How might the courses benefit your organization? The Fritz Institute will be in Nairobi and invites you to a session on 20 June to answer exactly these questions.

When: 20 June 2011, 08:00 – 12:30
Where: Redcourt Hotel, Nairobi (www.redcourt.co.ke)

Who should attend?

- Logistics and supply chain managers interested in learning how Certification can help build capacity within their organizations
- Management and HR representatives interested in understanding the skill sets of professionals who have completed Certification
- Potential students considering taking the courses

Following this session, you will understand:

- The background of the development of the Certification Program
- The three different Certification courses and their respective content
- How Certification has positively impacted organizations' operations to-date
- How competence-based learning works and what the benefits are
- The cost and operational benefits of distance learning

TO REGISTER:

Please register by e-mailing the below information to Nathalie Butcher (nathalie.butcher@fritzinstitute.org) by 13 June:

- Full name
- Organization and Position
- Contact Details – phone and e-mail
- Your interest in the Certification Program (ie – for yourself, for your staff/organization)

Notes:

- Capacity is limited to 30 spaces. If there is additional interest beyond 30 people, an additional session may be added on 21 June 2011.
- The session will be in English. For information regarding the courses in French, please e-mail us.
